Pasha Plans New Middle E. Defence Anglo-Egyptian Talks

DIPLOMATS WEEK

Alexandria, July 4. Egypt's new Prime Minister, Hussein Sirry Pasha, is planning early talks with the British Embassy for the settlement of the Anglo-Egyptian dispute, usually well informed Egyptian political circles said here tonight.

Sirry Pasha is expected to receive Mr J. Creswell, the British Minister in charge of the Embassy in the absence of the Ambassador, Sir Ralph Stevenson, and the American Ambassador, Mr Jefferson Caffery, next week.

Although the visits are officially described as "customary courtesy calls" paid to the new Prime Minister, who is also Foreign Minister, these sources believe that Sirry Pasha will take the opportunity to review Egypt's position towards Britain and the Western Powers' proposals for a Middle East Defence Command.

Charles Edward Stuart -- Bonnie Prince Charlie'—is once again the central figure in a romantic story, this time "Over the Sea to Skye", a ballad opera by Alan Lomax. It was produced by the author in the Scottish studios of the BBC and can be heard as a recording over Radio Hongkong on Thursday at 9.15 p.m.

The adventures of the Young Pretender among the Scottish hills and islands after the Battle of Culloden make one of the greatest escape stories of all time. Some years after the "Forty-Five" Rebellion a Jacobite historian, Bishop Forbes, interviewed every person who had seen the Prince during his wanderings and he included their narratives in a bulky collection of memoirs, which he called "The Lyon in Mourning." Lomax made his opera from this material and a collection of Jacobite ballads gathered together by James Hogg, the shepherd poet of Ettrick.

Switzerland changes definition of 'chronometer'

Until November 15th, 1951, the Swiss Federation of Watch Manufacturers ruled that the term "chronometer" was descriptive of: "A precision watch regulated in different positions and various. temperatures, capable of obtaining an Official Timing Certificate."

On November 16th, 1951, the Federation modified this ruling. It now reads as follows: "A precision watch regulated in different positions, HAVING OBTAINED an Official Timing Certificate."

In other words, in accordance with this new Swiss regulation, no watch may be termed "CHRONOMETER" unless its precision has been proved by a Swiss Ocvernment Testing Station or by an Observatory.

Rolex welcome this new, logical, and clear-cut definition. We feel it will prove beneficial both to the public and to the Swiss watch industry.

We have always considered it necessary to submit our watches to the impartial tests of the Swiss Government. Every Rolex chronometer offered for sale has previously obtained an official Timing Certificate and bears the words officially CERTIFIED CHRONO-METER on the dial.

This new definition, therefore, vindicates a policy. which we have applied strictly for a great many years.

A landmark in the history of Time measurement

Having been pioneers in the development of the wrist-watch since it was first timidly introduced at the turn of the century, we record with pride these landmarks in the recent history of time measurement:

1902 Our factory is the first to manufacture exclusively movements (for wrist-watches) with lever escapements.

1914 At the world-famous Kew Observatory, Rolex obtain the first class "A" Certificate ever awarded a small wrist-watch. (These stringent tests fasted 44 days in five timing positions and three temperatures and were identical to those applied to large chronometers, no allowance being made for the smaller size of wrist-watch movements. This was, in fact, the first wrist-chronometer over produced.)

1926 To ensure lasting protection to the accuracy of their wristwatch movements. Rolex invent and patent the World's first waterproof case, known today in every country as the famous Roles "Oyster."

1931 To ensure even greater accuracy through a more even tension of the mainspring. Rolen tutroduce the forerunner of all modern wrist-watches, the famous "Oyster Perpetual" with the acti-winding Rotor mechanism.

1936. At the Blenne Official Testing Station, 500 Rolex wilst-

Furniture

Arrangement

Separating the dining and living areas is a brace of armiess chairs done in lime-yellow linen. These are set at right angles to a six-foot bench table with rows of small drawers for storage space. In back of the armless chairs is a small buffet. The dining area includes a wall of shallow cabinets and a rectangular mobile table that can be rolled partially under the sideboard between meals. Teak dining chairs are orangeupholstered. With the contemporary modern there are a few traditional pieces that blend in perfectly. The various yellow shades carry over into the bedroom, where the furniture is teak, the rug green.

Citrus Again

The citrus tones appear again in another apartment, a tworoom layout with teak furniture, and gray and white offsetting the orange and lemon tones. We liked the dining bay with its Italian provincial; pieces in fruitwood. Woodwork, textured draperies and sheer curtains are all white. Two sofas are done in white chintz with touches of black and golden brown.

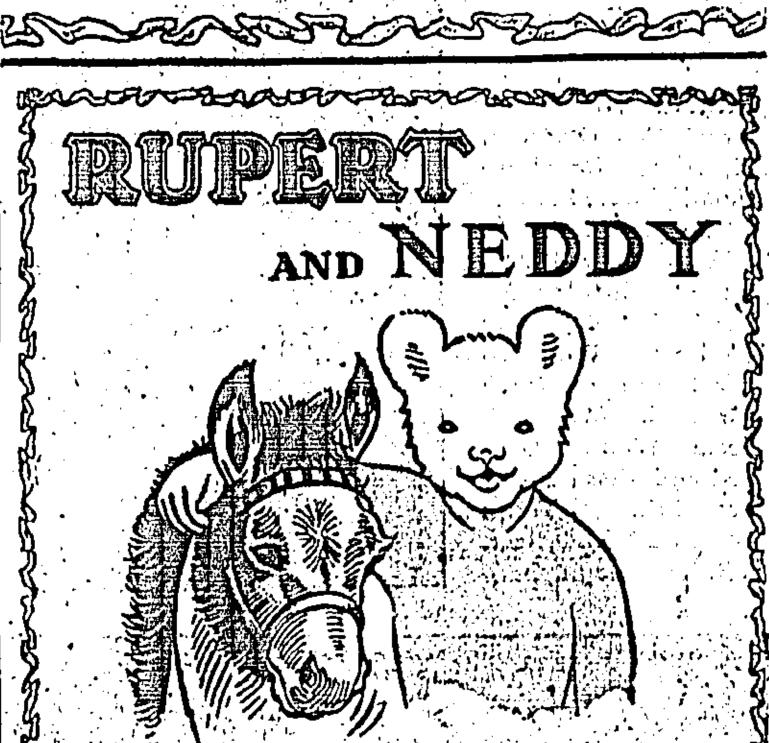

Pride of the room is an 18thcentury Chinese console with a pair of cane-topped benches underneath. These can be pulled out to serve as individual tables in front of the solas.

PRACTICAL HOMECRAFT

Remains A Mystery

-about correct diet

A Tests recently completed in a London laboratory may. revolutionise ideas about diet and correct feeding.

For the first time experiments hitherto carried out only on animals have been fried human beings.

They indicate: Millions of supposedly "well-fed" people especially children—are lacking a mystery factor" in their food, without which they cannot develop to the full.

Supposedly fully developed children, when provided with the "mystery factor", almost immediately develop even more. At first scientists carried out tests on animals... They proved that in a large number of cases a "vitimin diet" thought to contain all ingredients essential to health and growth was in fact seriously deficient in some unknown

Then they set about trying to find out what substances contained this ingredient. They found some—though they still could not isolate the ingredient itself. But they did discover that when rats or nulnea pigs were fed on this substance they showed immediate benefits. They grew bigger and better n every physical respect.

Applied to human beings

The next step was to find out whether this ingredient could be applied to human beings. In powdered form extracts from the substances known to contain it were introduced in a harmless form into the diet of a number of London children. Other children, of the same age, living under the same conditions were compared with

The results surprised, the scientists themselves. It was they're toped in place for sewing with cello-tound that the children, like the phane lape. Make length of sleeves with celloanimals, immediately benefited phane tape, then pull off the tape after stitching: in a manner that was almost spectacular.

All-round development increased at a rate which put the "tested" children for ahead of their "untested" contemporaties in a few months.

There was nothing essentially unnatural about this growth. It was simply that the children were now growing to the true limit of their capacities. It was as though a car supposed capable only of a certain limit of performance had been provided with a new fuel which showed that its true limit was much higher. Just what it is remains a my-

Stitching Fine

If you have trouble sewing a straight seam on a machine and your chalk marks disappear before you are ready to stitch, try a little cello-phane tape at intervals (carefully measuring seam allowance). Use the edges as a guide to straight and narrow stitching: Keep gathers and pleats in place with pleces of tape at intervals (after pleats are pressed down). This will permit stitching with fower plus and less chance of

Matching plaids or stripes isn't too casy for the beginner. When one pins these patterns, they sometimes slip in the sowing, resulting in an unevenly matched seam. Try matching them up on the face of the fabric, then tape instead of pinning. When ready to stitch or baste, crease the cellophane tape along the matching line, pin up or baste your seam allowance, and stitch. Appliques or pockets won't pucker when Markings on shot from a sporting gun had produced little evidence in murder cases until Detective-Inspector A. L. Allen, one of Dr Firth's senior assistants, was called in to help in investigations at Wroxham, Wales.

In the case of young John Rusdell, Inspector Allen proved beyond all doubt that markings on lead shot found in the victim's body could only have been caused through being fired through a sawn-off shotgun found in the accused man's possession.

That sawn shot-gun made crime history. It was the first time in Britain that a ballistics expert had been able to give such conclusive evidence with lead

Jack Kramer Says There Is No Real Money Amateur Tennis

By GEORGE WHITING

America's Jack Kramer, the world's greatest lawn tennis player since the war, tapped a brogue-shod toe on one of Wimbledon's immaculate lawns, sipped his lemonade, and admitted with just the right amount of diffidence that he was there to talk £30,000 worth of husiness with the winner of the Men's Singles—on the Centre Court, on Friday, July 4.

Always provided, said the hefty, pleasantly puglistic Mr Kramer that the said winner turns out to be Frank Sedgman or Ken McGregor of Australia, or Dick Savitt, the American holder, or Jaroslav Drobny, whom the crazy-quilt of post-war politics has turned from a Czech into an Egyptian.

Ends For Hutton

Almost without exception, cricketers talk of their lucky and unlucky grounds. I imagine England's captain, Len, Hutton, is glad he has broken his Lord's "hoodoo."

On his Lord's Test debut in 1937 he made 0 and 1 against New Zealand.

THE MOST VICIOUS SHOT IN GOLF-HOW TO AVOID THE "SHANK" By MAX FAULKNER

A slice, or a hook, or the occasional topped shot can be irritating. But a "shank," or "socket," can be devastating. I have seen it reduce scratch golfers to tears and turn normally placed players into something near nervous wrecks. I think, without any doubt at all, the socket is the most vicious fault in all golf.

It is that frightening shot which makes the ball sizzle away off the neck of the club at an angle of between 45 and 90 degrees to the line you intend. One shot like that is something of an unpleasant surprise. . But when the bug bites, it usually makes you produce a whole series.

INSTEAD of answering Paul A merely took the reporter's hand and guided him to the tiger cage.

"See that animal," he said. "We learned all about tigers in Mrs Olins' class when she taught us geography. There is a sign on the tiger case. Read every word on it." Slowly Arthur Zorn read the sign. BORN today, you have many talmts and you also have the ability to make the best of them. Your climb up the ladder of success should be a swift one. Develop your artistic gifts at an early age. Parents of children born on this day should realise that their progeny need more individual attention than some other children. Encourage the originality and independence which children of this birth sign inevitably exhibit.

You have a tenacity once you have got an idea, which nothing can slake. You might divert your talents into scientific channels. On the other hand, acting, music, literature—or just plain business—might appeal to your imagination. No matter what your job, you will do it effectively. If you do go into commerce or manufacturing, your new and exciting ideas will dominate the industry. You man inight he interested in politics.
